NEWLYWEDS ESCAPE IN BAGGAGE ROOM

Flee to Automobile and Waldorf
During Battle of Sleuth and Reckless Camera Man.

President Wilson came to New York last night with the twofold purpose of bidding bon voyage to his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, and of seeing to-day the first Army and Navy football game to be played in New York. He spent the night at the home of his old friend, Colonel E. M. House, in East 35th street, the first night that he has spent in this city since his inauguration.

After dinner with Colonel House he attended a performance of "Potash and Perlmutter" at the Cohan Theatre.

When the President arrived at the Pennsylvania Station, shortly after 6.30 o'clock, he found a big crowd of the curious waiting for a glimpse of Mr. and Mrs. Sayre. They were disappointed, however, for, although the young couple were in the Presidential party they waited in the car until the crowd had disappeared, and were then taken through the baggage room to a secret entrance, where they entered the automobile of Colonel House, the chauffeur of which had instructions to drive to the Waldorf. It was denied at the hotel that the newlyweds were there, however.

Sees Camera Battle.

The President received a hearty greeting as he emerged from the station and entered the automobile with Miss Eleanor Wilson, his youngest daughter; Miss Marjorie Brown, who was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding last Tuesday, and Dr. Cary Grayson, his naval aid, who composed the President's party, with the addition of Joseph P. Tumulty, his private secretary.

As the President was passing through the station he witnessed a brief "scrap" between one of the Secret Service men and a photographer who had set off a flashlight in order to get a picture of the party. The President, who has become a sort of veteran in the flashlight brigade, didn't mind the flash as much as the Secret Service man, who rushed over and swatted the photographer who had violated explicit orders in setting off the flashlight.

The President went at once to the home of Colonel House, while Miss Eleanor Wilson and Miss Brown went to the Waldorf, which seemed to confirm the story that the newlyweds had gone there, too. After dinner the President went to the theatre.

Cheered by Audience.

President Wilson and his party occupied the lower left-hand stage box, which was draped with American flags. He reached the theatre fifteen minutes before the curtain rose, but was quickly recognized and cheered. There was another demonstration as he left the theatre, which was added to by the clanging of fire engines on their way to a fire.

In addition to the President and Miss Eleanor Wilson, those in the box were Colonel and Mrs. House and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Field Malone. The President will return to Washington on the midnight train to-night. It is whispered that after seeing the football game he will go to another theatre in the evening. It was announced last night that the President will attend no political conferences while here.

Some of those who came to attend the game are, of the Army Captain

Rain Promised for Big Game

Rain, dismal rain, was predicted last night by the weather forecasters for the Army-Navy football game to-day.

The cadets of West Point and the midshipmen of Annapolis will march on the grounds shortly after 1:15 o'clock.

The game will be called promptly at 2 o'clock by W. S. Langford, the referee.

The Polo Grounds may be reached by the subway to 157th street and Broadway for the Speedway entrance, and by the Sixth or Ninth avenue elevated to 155th street for other entrances.

FIND WASHINGTON PERFECT SURVEYOR

Modern Instruments Discover No
Errors in Lines Run by Him in 1751.

Washington, Nov. 28.—George Washington's surveying, done in 1751, when as a lad of nineteen he ran lines with chain and compass through the wilderness of the Virginia hills for Lord Fairfax, has been checked up by government surveyors who have just made their report, and who found the work perfect.

Washington, running his lines with primitive instruments and bonfires on hilltops, left monuments and boundaries in which technically educated surveyors using high power transits and all the refined modern instruments have been able to find no variation.

From the top of Middle Mountain, in the Massanutten Range, the old Fairfax line may be distinguished without the use of instruments, and can be followed by boundary fences dating from the earliest days and by blocks of timber which come up from the county lines and stand out like squares upon a checker board. Down across the valley of the south fork of the Shenandoah, as far as the eye can distinguish, the line shows plainly.

Washington's survey blazes cut into the trunks of trees and long grown over have been rediscovered, and all are several feet higher from the ground than those the woodsmen of to-day would make. Some authorities contend Washington made them from the saddle with a long-handled axe.

The government has been retracing the old lines because it is buying land through the territory which they run for the new Appalachian forest reserve.

Newark Centenarian, Saying God
Gives Her Age, Ignores Professor Fisher's Questions.

Mrs. Margaret Kidney, a widow, who lives at No. 125 North 6th street, Newark, celebrated her one hundredth birthday yesterday. Helping her celebrate was her eighty-seven-year-old sister, Mrs. Annie Garabrant.

There was a Thanksgiving reunion in the centenarian's little home, and many called to congratulate her. The aged woman had cooked a chicken dinner, with the necessary vegetables, for herself and her immediate guests, who were her sister and the latter's daughter, son-in-law and their children. Many members of the North Reformed Church, of which Mrs. Kidney is a member, called to congratulate her.

Mrs. Kidney received a letter of congratulation from Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale University, asking that she forward to him a statement as to what habits and circumstances she ascribed her longevity, but she ridiculed the request and said:

"How foolish he is! I'm not responsible for living so long. It's God who has made me live so long. I'll not write to him."

Despite her years, and although some of her faculties are waning, Mrs. Kidney is still able to attend to and perform the household duties of her little home.

Indianapolis Mayor Fore-

Proceedings.

CRISIS COMES ON EVE OF NEW STRIKE

Novel Official Career Brought to Close Within Month of End of Term.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28.—Rather than face impeachment proceedings Samuel Lewis Shank resigned as Mayor of Indianapolis this afternoon, and was automatically succeeded by Harry R. Wallace, City Controller.

A committee of business men had prepared proceedings to remove Shank from office in case of any further labor trouble in the city, and when the Mayor was told by labor leaders this afternoon that a strike of union teamsters was imminent he sent his resignation to the City Clerk. Shank's term would have expired on January 1. "I feel that I did everything on my part to be fair to both sides during the recent streetcar strike," said Mayor Shank in announcing his resignation, "but after the criticism that has been heaped on me by the safety board of the Chamber of Commerce I feel that I probably could not retain my position and do my duty to the general public as Mayor on account of the bitter feeling that has grown out of the labor controversy."

Mayor in Charge of Police.

Mayor Wallace issued a statement, in which he said: "I shall do my duty impartially and fearlessly. Life and property must be protected at whatever cost, and the fair name of our city restored. Every person has a right to conduct his own business in his own way so long as he does it lawfully, and I will not tolerate any interference with it by others."

Mayor Wallace said the police situation was so critical that he would take personal charge of the department for a time. The new Mayor has been prominent in Republican politics for some time. He served one term as County Auditor and is on his second term as county chairman.

Mayor Shank's attitude in the recent streetcar strike, when he let it be known that he did not wish policemen to ride on the cars manned by strike breakers, caused the resignation of Martin J. Hyland, Superintendent of Police, and William E. Davis, president of the Board of Public Safety.

At the first police rally after Hyland had resigned Mayor Shank made a speech, in which he said he did not wish the policemen to ride on wagons driven by non-union teamsters if a strike occurred. This statement, it is said, resulted in the beginning of preparations to file impeachment proceedings against the Mayor.

Shank Picturesque Mayor.

Shank is probably the most picturesque figure that ever occupied the Mayor's office in Indianapolis. He attracted much attention by his handling of the saloon problem early in his administration. Saloonkeepers who violated the law were taken before the Mayor, and in many instances their licenses were suspended for periods varying from a few hours to sixty days. One saloonkeeper's license was suspended until he could show the Mayor a certificate, signed by a minister, that he had attended church.

Shank also gained nation-wide fame in 1911 by his fight on the high cost of living. He found that the city market was falling in its original purpose to bring the producer and consumer together, and imported sixteen carloads of potatoes, which he retailed at 75 cents a bushel. Potatoes were retailing at $1.40, but prices tumbled overnight and did not regain their high mark during the season. He also sold fruits, vegetables and poultry in competition with the city market.

He made a fight on insurance rates in the city, which was successful in causing a reduction of $200,000 a year. He took great delight in performing a marriage ceremony, and always turned whatever fee he received over to the bride as a present.

The former Mayor served one term as Recorder of this county, and before entering politics was an auctioneer and storage house proprietor.

Miss Bella Pankowitz, seventeen years old, of No. 1928 Second avenue, was walking east in 14th street, between Second and Third avenues, with two girl companions at 6:30 last night when she felt a hand laid upon her back. Turning quickly she found herself looking into the laughing features of a young man, said to be Meyer Lipman, of No. 204 East 124th street, a manager in a 14th street hat store. Miss Pankowitz rebuked him and continued walking.

About a hundred feet further on she was annoyed a second time. Again she faced about, and this time swung her right hand against the grinning face of young Lipman. She seized him then and shouted for a policeman.

Lipman was being badly used by the crowd that rushed to the girl's aid when Patrolman Quevedo, of the East 22d street police station, arrived. Lipman was arraigned in the night court.

Panama, Nov. 28.—The Cucaracha slide developed a fresh movement downward to-day, nearly closing the channel which has been maintained through the slide for the last six weeks. This channel has been sufficient to allow the passage of tugs and launches. Tugs which went through this morning scraped the bottom for several hundred feet.

A further movement of the slide will probably result in the complete blockade of the channel. One of the dredges has been moved out of the zone of danger.

BANDITS ROB TWO IN A TOURING CAR

Real Estate Man and Woman
Held Up in Pelham Parkway.

A touring car owned by Cornelius Doremus, a realty agent at No. 51 Church street and living at No. 51 West 87th street, Manhattan, was held up in Pelham Parkway, The Bronx, at 1:30 o'clock this morning by two masked men.

Placing revolvers at the heads of Doremus, his young woman companion and the chauffeur, Joseph Leonard, they ordered all to make no outcry. The men then went through Doremus's pockets, taking $300 in cash and stripping him of his jewelry. They also made the young woman remove all her jewelry.

Then, with about $1,000 worth of jewelry and the cash in their possession, the men ordered them to keep quiet and dashed into the woods.

As soon as the highwaymen had time to disappear in the gloom Leonard raced his car to the Westchester police station, where Doremus told his experience to Captain Place. The latter at once sent a squad of detectives and uniformed men out to search the woods along Pelham Parkway as far south as Hunter's Island.

It was found necessary to give the young woman with Doremus medical attention, as she had fainted when the highwaymen first made their appearance and did not recover consciousness until after reaching the police station. The spot selected by the hold-up men for their attack upon the automobile was a favorable one for such an undertaking. The speedway at that point is poorly lighted and far from a police post.

Sergeant Katzman to See Game

Sergeant Samuel Katzman, of the artillery corps at West Point, left this city for Nyack yesterday, from which place he will fly in an army aeroplane to Governor's Island to-day. The aeroplane will be decorated with flags bearing the colors of West Point, and it is Sergeant Katzman's intention to fly near the Polo Grounds this afternoon while the Army-Navy game is in progress.

It was said that he received permission to make the flight, and that he would start from Governor's Island, weather permitting, to fly up the North River soon before the game begins.

It is probable that Sergeant Katzman intends to fly only within view of the spectators at the football game, as aviators have been cautioned by the Aero Club of America and other organizations against flying over large crowds.

Stricken with typhoid fever, a family of four was found in bed without doctor or food last night. Paul Brendmuhl, foreman of a fishmarket on Amsterdam avenue, and living at No. 1827 Amsterdam avenue, was taken sick about three weeks ago. He continued to go to work until a week ago, when he found it utterly impossible to go out of the house.

A few days before, his son, Paul, twelve years old, had been taken sick and was confined to his bed. His mother nursed the two until four days ago, when she was herself stricken, and at the same time the two-year-old daughter, Elsie, became ill.

According to their story last night they had a doctor in the first place, but he ceased to call after a few visits. Neighbors discovered their plight and informed the police. Dr. Jacobs, who was sent from Washington Heights in serious condition. He took them both to the hospital.

The Board of Health was informed, as was the Charities Organization, and the mother and daughter will be cared for in their apartment.

STOVER RESIGNS; MYSTERY DEEPENS

Missing Park Head Writes from Cincinnati to Mayor and Successor.

KLINE APPOINTS
LA ROCHE TO JOB

No Trace of Ex-Commissioner
Nor Explanation of Delay in Announcing Letters.

A brief statement issued at the Mayor's office late yesterday afternoon, announcing that Mayor Kline had received and accepted the resignation of Charles B. Stover, the missing Park Commissioner, and had appointed Louis F. La Roche, now acting Commissioner, to the place, was the first glimmer of light on the mystery of Stover's absence. No information was included in the statement to indicate Mr. Stover's whereabouts, but in a letter written by him to Mr. La Roche from Cincinnati, dated November 24, the absent Commissioner said that he had forwarded his resignation to the Mayor at that time.

Mr. La Roche said that he had received the Stover letter on Wednesday morning and informed the Mayor about it that day. Although Stover had been missing since October 16 and no word had been received from him by his friends, Mayor Kline, for some reason not clear, held up the information until late yesterday when his statement was issued. La Roche said the Mayor had asked him not to say anything about the Stover letter.

Letter Withheld Two Days.

The statement was issued from the Mayor's office after Mr. Kline had left for the day. When seen last night Mayor Kline admitted that he received Mr. Stover's resignation "late on Wednesday afternoon." He said that he had heard of it prior to that time from Mr. La Roche.

"As I was not at my office on Thanksgiving day," said the Mayor, "I did not make it known then, but I turned it over to Assistant Secretary Mathews the first thing this morning to be given out."

When told that it was not given out until late in the afternoon the Mayor said he could not understand it. Asked if in the mean time he had made any inquiry as to Mr. La Roche's requisites for the position he said that had not been necessary, as he was confident the new Commissioner could fill the place satisfactorily. Asked if he knew Mr. La Roche's politics the Mayor said that he was not sure, but he presumed from the fact that the new park head was a brother of State Senator La Roche that he was a Democrat.

Mr. Stover's letter to Mr. La Roche was written on Monday night in Cincinnati. It was written on a blank sheet of paper and contained no address. There was nothing in it to explain the former Commissioner's long absence or any reason why he had decided to resign. It read as follows:

"My Dear Friend: I have reached Cincinnati in my travels and write you this Monday night, November 24, to let you know that when this letter reaches you my resignation will be in the hands of Mayor Kline. I hope he will appoint you my successor, and I would therefore advise that you see him immediately. Now, let there be no further concern about me. In my day I have travelled not a little, and am fully competent to make my way anywhere around this world in safety. I repeat, therefore, that there be no worry over my travels.

"Hoping you will succeed me, I remain with best wishes, to you and to all, sincerely,

"CHARLES B. STOVER."

Whereabouts a Mystery.

Mr. La Roche said he had no idea where Mr. Stover was staying in Cincinnati. He declared that Mr. Stover had never suggested taking the step he had and asking for his (La Roche's) appointment to the place.

Although there have been reports that Mr. Stover would not again be endorsed by some of the persons who were sponsors for him four years ago, it was said last night by those in authority at the University Settlement, where Mr. Stover had lived, that those connected with that institution had intended doing so again. Robbins Gilman, head worker, was out of the city, but he was notified that Mr. Stover had been heard from. Edwin Newdick, of the settlement, said:

"We all felt anxious about Mr. Stover because he cleaned up his desk in his room here before leaving. Generally he kept it under a foot of papers and books. It was unwritten law that it should not be touched."

Commissioner La Roche is appointed for the remainder of the term, which expires January 1. The announcement of the appointment from the Mayor's office read as follows:

"The Mayor to-day announced the appointment of Mr. Louis F. La Roche as Commissioner of Parks for the Boroughs of Manhattan and Richmond to succeed Charles B. Stover, whose resignation has been tendered to and accepted by the Mayor.

New Park Head's Record.

Mr. La Roche for several years was connected with the Finance Department, handling while there all budgetary matters relating to public parks, and is thoroughly conversant with all details of administration relating there-

RIVAL GANGSTERS IN STRIKE BATTLE

Three Shot and Girls Stoned
After Opening Skirmish on Broadway.

Three men were shot, one probably fatally; three girls were stoned and one man was arrested as the result of a battle between rival gangs, one hired to protect strike breakers and the other engaged as allies of the strikers, in the hat frame factory of S. Feldman & Co., at No. 168 Greene street, yesterday afternoon. Max Green, said to be a member of a West Side gang, was shot through the abdomen. He is in St. Vincent's Hospital, and the surgeons say he cannot live.

Charles Piazzi, of No. 207 Grand street, was shot in the left shoulder. Herman Emanuel, of No. 81 Harrison avenue, Brooklyn, received a bullet in the right leg. He is said to be one of the strikers, but denies it.

The three girls injured, all strike breakers, are Sadie Blattman, of No. 111 7th street, Manhattan; Sadie Dunn, of No. 1409 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn, and Margaret Stiles, of No. 5420 Sixth avenue, Brooklyn. They were struck by stones and other missiles, and the Blattman girl received a severe cut over the right eye.

The trouble started at Broadway and Houston street, when an automobile in which the strike breakers were being taken to their homes under guard was greeted with a volley of stones. The shrieks of the injured girls caused the chauffeur to heed the advice of Patrolman Scherer and return to the factory. While Scherer was telephoning for an ambulance a crowd collected and three shots were fired. Green, who is also known as Harry Fields, dropped, as did Piazzi and Emanuel. Scherer dashed back to the scene, and found Harry Gordon, of No. 102 Eldridge street, said to be a member of the "Dopey Benny" gang, bending over Green and expressing sorrow at the shooting.

Gordon was arrested. At St. Vincent's Piazzi identified him as the man who did the shooting. The girls were treated by an ambulance surgeon and taken to their homes.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]
New Lexington, Ohio, Nov. 28.—When the mail arrived here this morning postoffice employees were surprised to find it an eight-year-old girl bearing a tag which had been placed on her by New York immigration officials, reading as follows:

"This child, Julia Kohan, is going to her father, John Kohan, Box 117, R. F. D. No. 4, New Lexington, Ohio."

After a breakfast supplied by the postmaster the child was taken in care of a rural delivery carrier to the home of her father, who lives six miles south of here. The trip of seven thousand miles from Bavaria was made by her alone.

The tigress has occasionally been seen by terror-stricken peasants, but so far it is not known to have killed any one.

Western Port Falls Into Their Hands—Porfirio Diaz Again in Mexican Army.

THE SITUATION IN MEXICO.

General Villa, the victorious rebel leader at Juarez, tells The Tribune his troops will eat their meals in Chihuahua City within two weeks.

Movement of rebel troops from Juarez begins, ostensibly to pursue the defeated Federals, but really to strike at Chihuahua and then the federal capital.

Three of the United States battleships in the Mediterranean have been ordered to the east coast of Mexico to relieve three ships which have been on duty there since last February.

The capture of Victoria by the rebels is admitted in Mexico City, and stories are told of pillage and murder by the Constitutionalists in the conquered city.

The British cruiser Suffolk arrived at Vera Cruz. Rebels capture the important western port of Mazatlan.

Ex-President Porfirio Diaz consents to return to service in the army and is placed on the active retired list.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 28.—In thorough accord with Venustiano Carranza, and doggedly determined that the rule of Provisional President Huerta in Mexico shall be brought to an end through rebel efforts and not by American intervention, General Pancho Villa, Constitutional leader of Chihuahua, former bandit and the new popular hero of Northern Mexicans, declared to-night that within two weeks his army would be eating their meals in the city of Chihuahua.

The move on Chihuahua City was started by Villa to-night, when he sent two troop trains south over the Mexican Central Railroad. Ostensibly the purpose of the movement is to pursue the federal army which Villa defeated at La Mesa, Tierra Blanca, Zaragoza and Flores Ranch. In reality, and practically admitted by Villa, it is the beginning of the advance upon Chihuahua and Mexico City.

"For nineteen years," said Villa to The Tribune correspondent, "I have been fighting for the common people of Mexico against Porfirio Diaz and his successor as dictator, Victoriano Huerta, and now I feel that the victory for the people is practically won."

Lawbreaker Only for the People.

"I have been considered an outlaw, commonly called a bandit; have been hunted by Mexican army men who would have killed me on sight, and have been feared by those who did not know me among the people of Chihuahua. Yet I have never broken the law except in defence of the people's cause, and I have never harmed a man who was not either a traitor to the people or a soldier of the people's arch enemies, Porfirio Diaz and Victoriano Huerta."

"Two brigades of cavalry, commanded by Generals Maclovio Herrera and Lieutenant Colonel Faustino Borunda, are being sent south over the Central against the enemy. Within five days I will have 5,000 well equipped men moving south from this point against the enemy. It is impossible to say just when I will leave, because there are many pressing matters here that need attention; but I will be gone by next Tuesday."

"If the Federals stay to fight you will soon hear of a big battle, because this time the question of supremacy in Chihuahua will be definitely solved. Of course, I cannot tell where the fight will take place. The enemy may decide to make a stand some place between Juarez and Chihuahua. It is possible that the force we defeated recently outside of Juarez has not been able to return to Chihuahua, as General Manuel Chao's army of 2,000 men may have intercepted their retreat."
